The great and special feature of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. is its NON-FORFEITABLE POLICIES. This feature is the rock of the Policy-holder made so by the law of the State of Massachusetts. Premiums already paid constitute the Policy & runs until they are exhausted by the insurance. Fifteen soldiers in the New England Co. were called under the law in 1874, amounting to $37,000; which would have been a total loss to the policy-holders, had they been insured in any company other than a Massachusetts company.

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS

It gives us pleasure to announce, as above, that the first public meeting of the Republican campaign in the city will be held in Norombega Hall on Thursday evening next when our citizens will enjoy the privilege of listening to HON. OLIVER P. MORTON of Indiana, one of the most distinguished Republicans of the country and one of the most powerful and eloquent of American orators and also GOV. SELDEN CONNOR the gallant standard-bearer of the Republican party of Maine. We trust there will be a warm welcome and a rousing audience in Bangor.

DON'T LIKE HISTORY

As we anticipated Mr Madigan's organ, the Commercial fairly foams with wrath at the publication of an official chapter from the political record of its "reform" candidate for Congress. What is more, it even takes to quoting Latin, which it thoughtfully translates for its readers and when Marcellus Eyers fails back on Cicero it is a pretty sure sign that he has little to say for himself. In the present case we are told to use the aptitude of his citation, as the officer charged is not that "Madigan was in Mollusk," but that he signalized his case by the delivery of polit at appeals from the steps of the CATHOLIC CHAPEL on SUNDAY, and that, according to the sworn testimony of five unimpeachable citizens of the first rank in the community, Kingman, President, Carroll, Bangor, Patterson, Bangor, Treasurer, and Lowell, Bangor, Auditor, all of whom are Democrats, and the last two Catholics, he did so with the approval of Lincoln Patterson, in Patterson's house, on Thursday, Sept. 2 at 10 o'clock A. M.

Class composed of Springfield, Winn, Lee, Mattawamkeag, Kingman, Prentiss, Carroll, etc., in Springfield, Saturday, Sept. 4, at 10 A. M.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

My attention has been called to editorial remarks of the Lewiston Journal upon my recent communication on the subject of the proposed Constitutional Amendments. Though with reference to a great many cases the remarks are eminently true, yet there is a very large class where the greatest wrong may be anticipated from the adoption of the amendment proposed. It is to be noticed that it is absolute in its terms, admitting of no inference by the Legislature, save giving power to corporations to override the people without Legislative control. "Corporations shall be formed under general laws and shall not be created by special acts of the Legislature except in cases where the objects of the corporation cannot be otherwise obtained." The limitation "as far as practicable," is not made applicable to the provision now cited, and the other limitation recited does not modify the general provision to any extent in the direction complained of. The power of the Legislature is entirely cut off, and any act endeavoring to relieve or protect any interest, unfavorably affected, is beyond the power of the people entire ly, except so far as the general act may provide. And no human wisdom is equal to the task of anticipating all the future contingencies of any particular class of business to guard the public or private rights of individual cases arising under the general subject. Take as illustration the case stated in my former communication and also commented upon by the Journal. A general railroad law provides perhaps minutely for bridging navigable rivers. But such rivets are of very diverse kind. The Kenduskeag at Bangor the Piscataquis at Kittery, the Sheepscot at Wiscasset, &c., may admit of the application of the general law as those bridges are now built. But suppose under the same general law a question arising about bridging the Penobscot at Bucksport navigation were proved for to the Legislature in 1874, the Journal answers it by saying to the County Commissioners the right to decide. The part es directly interested in that question adversely are the people of Bangor and County of Penobscot. The County Co missioners of that county have nothing to say about it, but the commissioners of Hancock or Waldo have full power to allow it, all of whom, it may be well presumed, have already decided the case against us. Last winter the Legislature was besieged by the River Railroad to grant the right to bridge Belfast harbor, and the Legislature granted the right of doing so in a cautious manner, with particular provisions to meet the case. Under a general law giving the right to certain commissioners, who can tell what, would have been the result? So of the large amount of special legislation found necessary in the arranging of this different problems arising out of the railroad complications at Portland, two or three years since. Indeed the cases must necessarily be numerous where the special action of the Legislature will be found necessary to guard the rights of the public where human foresight cannot by a general law make suitable provision to meet the particular case. A reservation should at least be made of all corporations which, by their organization, are clothed with the power of eminent domain to take the property of the citizen, against his consent, and to interfere with the navigation of public streams and rivers. The power to pass general laws for the formation of corporations already exists with the Legislature, and all it has to do is to pass such laws, and then rightly cause all applications for charters coming within their provisions. In this way the whole evil now existing will be avoided without inflicting the greater one which the proposed amendment will most certainly engender.

A. W. P.

THE FATAL BALLOON TRIP. On Wednesday afternoon an inquest was held at Detroit on the body of N. S. Grimwood, the Chicago journalist who accompanied Donaldson on his ill-fated trip. The body was fully identified, and a verdict of accidental drowning rendered. Mr. Grimwood's note book contained what was evidently the introduction to what he intended to write about the ascension. It was headed, "Up in a Balloon," and was as follows:

From the earliest dawn of childhood I have always had a prescentiment that at some time or other, sooner or later, I was destined to rise. There are some people who make sport of presentiments, but, after all, presentiments are a handy thing to have around. Where could I be to-day if I had not had a presentiment? Dead enough, as it were, to a positive certainty. Like a great many politicians I sense by means of gas. I regret the fact that there are only two of us, Professor Donaldson and myself, as I would like to belong to the aggregation.

Professor Donaldson seems to be a very pleasant gentleman, although a philosopher and an aeronaut enough is to excite an hour since I struggled into eminence the restraint of my position already beginning to be irksome to me and wear upon my spirits. I cannot help reflecting that if we shall we fall like Lucifer out of the heavens, am I that upon our arrival upon earth, or rather upon water—as we are now over the middle of Lake Michigan—we, would be literally dead."

The gayety of all these sentences, save the last, contrasts strangely with the evident foreboding which prompted that, and the entire paragraph is possessed of a peculiar and painful interest. That the man who wrote it must have left like a man can hardly be doubted for even while the strange excitement of his position made his pencil tackle his eyes were open to the possibility of death.

The recovery of Donaldson's body will now be awaited anxiously. It will probably disclose nothing of the last moments of the terrible ordeal, for Donaldson was a man who had always other work to do than writing when danger was on hand, but until his body is recovered there will still be something of mystery about the affair. The body reported to have been seen in the lake on Saturday night was seen by the steamer John Sherman, which runs between Muskegon, Mich., and Sheboygan, Wis. The body was seen six miles from the Michigan shore, and half on a life-preserver. The Sherman being in a hurry to make a connection with the cars, did not stop to pick it up.

THE KNOX COUNTY CONVENTION. The Republicans of Knox county on Tuesday nominated Hon. Moses Webster, of Vinalhaven, for Senator; Jen J. P. Cilley, of Rockland, for County Treasurer; and W. H. Titcomb, of Rockland, for County Commissioner. The Convention adopted the following Resolutions:

Resolved, That we heartily indorse the principles adopted by the Republican State Convention held at Portland, on the 16th day of June, 1875, and especially and emphatically the second, if the first series, or those relating to National affairs; and the fourth of the second series, or those relating to State affairs.

Resolved, That all citizens and taxpayers we are alarmed at the apparent recklessness with which the financial affairs of the County of Knox are conducted, and its present debt and annual taxation lo- pressed; also at the failure of the officers to publish the same charges as required by law; and that it is the duty of the Republicans of this County to see that the whole results of the county of the evils to which they are subjected in these particulars.

Resolved, That Gen. Selden Connor, as candidate for Governor, Moses Webster, as candidate for Senator, Wm. H. Titcomb, as candidate for County Commissioner; and J. P. Cilley, as candidate for County Treasurer, are entitled to, and should receive the cordial support of the voters of this county.

The latest returns of the North Carolina Constitutional Convention election give the Republicans 61 delegates and the Democrats 58. This gives the Republicans a sufficient majority to adjourn the Convention sine die as soon as it meets. The Republican majority on the popular vote is 15,000, which is a gain of 35,000 over the last Congressional vote. Has any one heard of that Democratic tidal wave lately?

The liabilities of Moffat Bros. of Toronto, who suspended recently, amount to $900,000.

BLACK HILLS.

Gen Crook's Opinion as to a Fight with the Sioux.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. The Herald's letter from the Black Hills says that General Crook thinks there is no immediate danger of an Indian war, but there is undoubtedly to be a great fight. The government has got to whip the Sioux, and the sooner it is done the better. He thinks the opening of the Black Hills will not be difficult, but if required to relinquish the Big Horn country the united Sioux will fight for their hunting grounds.

He died of erysipelas after an illness of three days and was buried with military honors in the protestant cemetery at Bellevista, near Callao. Rear Admiral Reed Werden has been ordered to the command of the South Pacific station in place of Collins. Until his arrival the command will devolve on Capt. Simpson. He should regard himself not merely as the representative of a section but as pledged to work for the interests of the whole country.

The Damage by Floods

MEMPHIS, Aug. 20. The rapid decline in the river has dispelled all fears of further damage to the crops. The estimates of the damage done to the cotton crop in this district vary from 20,000 to 80,000 bales, and the number of acres of corn ruined by the flood is largely in excess of the cotton.

THE TURKISH TROUBLES.

Satisfactory Termination of the Affair Anticipated.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 20. Later intelligence from Herzegovina is satisfactory. The Governor of the province assures us there is less excitement among the people, and he anticipates a prompt pacification. The Russian, Austrian and German Ambassadors had a protracted conference with the Grand Vizier, yesterday. It is understood they advised a suspension of hostilities with the view of ascertaining the grievances of the insurgents. The Turkey declines to accede to this proposition. The Russian Ambassador had an interview with the Sultan, and afterwards the Grand Vizier was summoned to the palace. The foreign Ambassadors and the Ministers met at the Russian Embassy Saturday.

The Seige of Trebigne Raised.

LONDON, Aug. 20. A special from Vienna reports that the Herzegovinian insurgents have been forced to raise the seige of Trebigne, and some have been driven disarmed across the frontier.

A Russian View of the Matter.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 20. Le Nord, the Russian organ, discussing the Turkish insurrection, says that Russia, Germany and Austria are in accordance with the point that the Eastern quest on shall not be raised. Peace has been temporarily disturbed, but the general peace is secure beyond attack. France and Italy will, doubtless be invited to join these three powers. Turkey must recognize the need of ending the intolerable religious and proceeding more closely with reform, which has heretofore been a mere pretense.

HOME THEM SUB.

BY RACHEL PORTHOY.

Keep your baby dainties,
Little maid!
Growing up will spoil you,
Dreadful!
When the honey girlies grow,
Half their prattlesomeness go—
People say.

Who can look as much as you
Without a pang or two?
Well a day!

If I could, I'd keep you,
Thus and so,
As you are this minute,
Every bit.
Not another inch of height
Want we tall enough now, quite—
Two "outsizes!"

Why, I'd give my Sunday bonnet,
And the purple ponies on it,
To be you!

Could the saddles only
Hold the bower,
Could you spare your dimples
Half an hour,
I might unsaddle, you see,
How things looked when I was three.
Very well,

You know what there is to say,
You'll be big as I someday—
Woes you tell!

And did I but manage
Matters here,
I'd discuss should it you
Ming a year;
Or I dread less when you're old,
You'll have lost your heart of gold
On the way

That were sadder (don't forget)
Than to live to see (or yet
Worse) to lose it.

Girls wake may some day
When their cradle
Is no more than the Bestne
Of a trouble.
Never mind, be naught be stole
From the years hoppered soul
With a sigh.
Cherish tide will have to pay
Of her debt back away
By and by.

Stop it, then, I'd dare not
If I might
Thus go the risks against hours,
Hers and mine—
Some of hazard, every whit
Life and unlikely, none from it,
Love me so—

Take your chances with the rest,
Leave a mother's most be best,
Change go.

Rheumatism Cured

As A Proof Notice the Results.

Capt. Stevens of the Boston Lancers says:

BOSTON, March 3, 1875.

Prof. Alphonse Hiller:

Dear Sir: I feel my lasting gratitude for the benefit which myself and wife have experienced from the use of the wonderful medicine called the

Diamond Rheumatic Cure

For several years past I have been subject to regular attacks of Inflammatory Rheumatism, and each succeeding attack was more severe than its predecessor. The last visitation from this terrible scourge lasted three months. The best medical talent in Cambridge was called in, but no relief was experienced. I was so low as several occasions that my recovery was despaired of. When at last I rallied sufficient to leave my room and was moving about me, I learned that my wife was also laid low with the same painful disease. A friend, learning of our helpless condition, brought me a bottle of the DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE. By the taking of two doses of this invaluable remedy the pain was entirely relieved. I commenced to take it and rapidly improved until in about a week I was completely restored. Since then I have had another attack, and after doing the same with perfect success. I have also used it in my family for Rheumatism or its kindred affects. About two weeks since I experimented a little for a friend who was laboring under the most severe case of Rheumatism I ever saw. I am confident that the thousand who are to-day suffering as unfortunate from their effects of Rheumatism and Gout, if they but know how ready a relief and cure was at hand, would at once resort to this sure and simple remedy, and would thank me for the assistance of these lines. Inquire of the physician who gives it, or write to Alphonse Hiller, Boston, Mass., and by return mail he will furnish a pamphlet containing this truly effective remedy—the DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE.

I remain, gratefully yours,

T. F. STEVENS,
Late Lieut. Cambridge Light Infantry and Cambridge Co., Boston.

The above testimonials ought to convince the most skeptical that the remedy that A. Hiller calls his cure has been discovered at last.

Diamond Rheumatic Cure.

The proprietor of this medicine has walked the hospitals of London and Paris for the last twenty years, making rheumatism a specialty, and the investigation which this remedy is the result of has been the study of his life. Having had extraordinary success in all he ever sought in the treatment of this disease. In simple cases sometimes one or two doses suffice. In the most chronic cases it is sure to give relief in from one to four or five days. The afflicted will sample remedy thus trials of dollars, and never be those who can least afford to throw away that sum, but they if it is by the purchase of useless prescriptions.

THE BANGOR DAILY WHIG & COURIER.

1875—VOL. XLII.

Daily Established 1834 Weekly 1815.

BOUTELLE & BURR, Proprietors.

C. A. BOUTELLE, Editor.

In announcing the Forty second Volume of this standard Newspaper, the Proprietors beg leave to state that during the past year they have incurred large expense in thoroughly refitting their establishment, and are determined to spare no effort in maintaining its high character as

The Leading Journal

OF

EASTERN MAINE.

We have now one of the best appointed news paper offices in the State, have made important additions to our Editorial, Reportorial and Correspondence corps, and are in every way prepared to furnish our patrons with a

FIRST CLASS DAILY NEWSPAPER.

With facilities at our command we hope to make this favorite newspaper more interesting and acceptable among the coming year than ever before. Our connection with the ASSOCIATED PRESS, by which we receive the whole of their despatches by night and day, enables us to present in each issue

The Latest Telegraphic News from All Parts of the World.

In addition we shall be served by Special Correspondents at important points, and shall furnish

Full Reports

of the proceedings of Congress, the State Legislature, meetings of Agricultural Societies and other public bodies, carefully corrected Financial and Market Reports a reliable Shipping List, original and selected Stories and Poetry, a large amount of instructive and entertaining Miscellany, and a very full department of

News of This Section and the State.

In politics the paper will continue to advocate and uphold the principles of the Republican party, while claiming to be independent in the highest and best sense of the word. While fearless and outspoken in its treatment of all public questions and firmly maintaining what it believes to be right, it will avoid unkindness and make an appeal to the understanding rather than to prejudice. The year about to open will be fruitful of political events of important bearing upon the future of the country, and it will be our aim to keep our readers thoroughly informed, and to favor such measures and policy as will best promote the welfare of all the people. The great interests of

AGRICULTURE AND MANUFACTURES

of Maine will receive special attention and all the influence of the paper will be exerted to stimulate its steady growth and prosperity. Our beloved State is rich in many resources that only need development, of which many people unfortunately know little. We gladly embrace from our columns everything of an immoral tendency, avoid sensational matter and seek to make a thoroughly reliable paper which will find

A Welcome in Every Family Circle.

To advertisers our columns open one of the best fields in New England, our circulation being among the best classes of the people, and as

The Only Morning Daily East of the Kennebec.

this paper affords the principal medium of communication with a large and constantly increasing number of readers throughout Central and Eastern Maine. On the first of January the paper will appear in

An Entirely New Dress,

but with all its best features retained and with such improvements as we trust will insure an increase of that support which it has hitherto enjoyed.
